

REAL ESTATE OPPORTUNITIES

One of the Prize Stories Another will appear next Thursday

I have lived in Richmond since October, 1906. My coming here was accidental, being transferred by the department under which I was working. At once the city appealed to me as a desirable place to live. Its healthful climate, its progressive spirit, its genial and hospitable people, were all points in its favor, and as soon as possible I made arrangements to purchase a home. Supporting a family on a small salary, and at the same time paying rent, never appealed to me favorably, for money paid as rent could more wisely be used in monthly payments on your own home. This gives something to look forward to and encourages the saving spirit. This, however, was not my method, as I had enough money in bank, as the result of systematic saving for five years, to pay one-half of the purchase-price on a neat, comfortable home in a respectable neighborhood. The balance was borrowed through an agent at 6 per cent. interest, to be paid in three yearly instalments. These payments were promptly met, and the end of three years found me free of debt and owner of my own home. The section in which I bought proved to be a desirable one, and very soon the property was sold at a good profit through the same agent of whom I had bought. The proceeds, with what was saved in the meantime, was applied to the purchase of another house nearer my place of business. This last purchase is now all paid for, and owing to the recent advance in real estate, can sell at any time to advantage. On the whole, am very well pleased with my investment in Richmond real estate.

News of South Richmond

South Richmond Bureau, The Times-Dispatch, 1025 Hull Street, Phone Madison 125.

Caught by his clothing on a rapidly revolving pulley, Edward Praxer, colored, an employee of the Manchester Board and Paper Company, was thrown around the shaft and dashed to the floor, was badly mangled and the bones of both legs broken. The accident occurred yesterday morning about 5 o'clock while the man was attempting to put on a belt. No one was near, and his mangled body was the first indication that anything was wrong. Horrified fellow workmen, seeing the man, made no effort to shift the pulley. Praxer was whisked rapidly around the shaft at a rate of 100 revolutions a minute. His clothing was stripped off, and he fell naked to the floor. He was laid with only a blanket on his back, and a covering until the arrival of the ambulance with Surgeon Watts in charge. Because of the serious nature of the man's injuries, arrangements were made to remove him to the Memorial Hospital, where he was given medical attention by Dr. Boshier. The machinery at the plant, it was said yesterday, is in bad condition, and not properly guarded. This was emphatically stated by the superintendent of the concern, who stated that he had proper safe appliances and that the machinery of his plant was in first-class order.

Tanyard Bottom Wants Sewer.
Now that the city has been working on the trunk sewers for Washington Ward the question of having a sewer run through Tanyard Bottom is again being agitated. This section of the ward is thickly settled by colored families, and being situated in a low-lying place, is subject to an outbreak of fever at any time. Should the happen the chance of checking the disease in other portions of the city would be almost impossible.

A sewer could, it is said, be constructed at a very small cost. Starting at Main Street and running out Twenty-first it could empty into Canoe Run, which empties into the James River. The main cost would be about half mile of pipe. Canoe Run has a natural fall of four feet in every 100, and only needs clearing out to be ready for use.

Water for this section of the town is also needed. The present supply is taken from the James River, and is of poor quality.

LaPrade, of Chesterfield county, will make a final inspection of the new Brandywine Bridge over the Swift Creek this morning. Should the bridge be found in accordance with the specifications of the Board of Supervisors at the next meeting which is scheduled for Monday morning at the Chesterfield Courthouse.

The bridge, which has been under construction since December 1, is of steel, having a span of 100 feet. It will cross at Swift Creek on the Brandywine Bridge Road near the courthouse. The cost will be about $2,500.

To Observe Holiday.
Today will be observed as a holiday among many of the business houses in South Richmond. Banks will be closed and the post-office will have regular holiday hours. Among the factories that will be idle is the Southern Shops. The city offices will be closed, and the schools will be in session. The children of the public schools will be given a day off.

Clean Slate for Police.
For the fourth consecutive day the blotter of the Third Police Station is without a scratch. The crusade against habitual loafers and the subsequent sentence to six months on the road for about twenty of the tribe has caused a shortage in the regular weekly letters to Justice Maurice's morning levee.

Eleven violations of the traffic ordinance were reported yesterday. Each is for failing to secure a wagon license for teams. The case will be heard before Justice Maurice Friday morning.

Moore-Corley Marriage.
A quiet marriage was celebrated yesterday afternoon in the parlor of the Rev. J. T. Hays, pastor of the Central Baptist Church, when Miss Ellen P. Corley became the wife of Charles L. Moore. The young couple are residents of Beach, Va., where they will make their home.

Ask $1,000 for Belcher's Widow.
W. B. Baker, member of the House of Delegates from Chesterfield county, will introduce a bill today that the sum of $1,000 be paid to the widow of Thomas Belcher, who in 1908 was killed by a train. The bill is in response to a petition from the widow, who is now residing in Beach, Va., where they will make their home.

To Celebrate Anniversary.
Camp No. 2, Patriotic Order Sons of America, will celebrate their first anniversary tonight at Central Hall with suitable exercises. All members are urged to be present.

Death of Mrs. Nunnally.
Mrs. Terecia Nunnally, 67 years old, wife of J. W. Nunnally, of Green Bay, died yesterday morning at 7 o'clock at the Memorial Hospital, where she had been taken at 5 o'clock the previous night. Besides her husband, she leaves nine children and a daughter, Mrs. Joseph W. Smith, of Beach, Va. Her remains were taken to her home yesterday afternoon. The funeral will be conducted this afternoon.

Southsiders Hold Dance.
The monthly dance of the Manchester Club, which is held at the hall on Harrison street between Broad and Grace, about twenty couples were on the floor.

Wind Destroyed Window.
The high wind last night demolished a large plate glass window in the store of the Bazaar, Partridge, Connerly, Phillips and Hull Streets. This is the second window lost this week by the wind, the first being destroyed by a brick hurled by a mischievous boy.

Many other minor injuries to property were reported to the police. Trees and fallen wires caused some loss of trouble.

General News Notes.
S. C. Rowe will leave this morning for a visit to friends in Charlottesville. John Jr., the infant child of J. T. Willard, of Twelfth Street, is recovering from a severe attack of pneumonia.

FIRE DESTROYS MALE ACADEMY
Norfolk, Va., February 21.—St. Mary's Male Academy, a Catholic school, and one of the oldest institutions in the city, was destroyed by fire early tonight, entailing a loss of $50,000, covered by $12,000 insurance. The building is a complete loss, together with all the equipment and property. The dormitory was located in the north end of the building, and practically all of the belongings of the students were destroyed.

Lack of water hampered the firemen at the outset until the fire had got such headway it could not be controlled until the building was completely gutted. The main feed-pipe on Church Street supplying water to that section of the city had been severed while a new main was being installed, and probably it was twenty minutes before temporary connection could be made to give the firemen a full supply of water. By that time the structure was a mass of flames.

It was the most spectacular blaze Norfolk has had since the burning of the Norfolk and Western depot nearly two years ago. The academy occupied almost the entire block surrounded by Holt, Bell, Mariner and Walker Streets. In the old residential district of the First Ward.

A multitude, estimated at 15,000 to 25,000 persons, jammed every street near the fire within a radius of a couple of blocks.

It was about 7 o'clock when the alarm was turned in, just the hour when the business houses were closing and the streets were crowded. Practically all of the furniture on the first floor of the main building was saved, being carried across the street into St. Mary's Church. This included a number of historic relics and valuable paintings.

There is no clue to the origin of the fire. It started in the main classroom, which was a mass of blaze when discovered. The building was more than a hundred years old, originally being an elaborate castle of Spanish architecture. It was occupied many years by the Norfolk Seminary, a high school for girls, and was later occupied by the Protestants of the city as a relief hospital, from which originated the Norfolk Protestant Hospital. About fifteen years ago the property was

READY TO HEAR MT. VERNON CASE

Charges and Replies Will Be Presented to House Committee This Morning.

Before the House Committee on General Laws there will be a hearing at 10 o'clock this morning on the resolution offered by J. A. L. Sutphin, of Floyd, providing for an investigation into the affairs of the Mount Vernon Ladies' Association of the United States, which is prompted by the Anti-Fee Association of Washington and Alexandria county, which claims that the charges for transportation to the home and tomb of Washington are excessive, and that the entrance fee should be abolished, and that large sums are being unnecessarily piled up in the treasury. The women who are in charge of Mount Vernon are not accused, but are said to be the hands of men who desire to make money through exclusive transportation facilities.

Former Attorney-General William A. Anderson will be here to represent the association as advisory counsel. He was appointed to this position last year, his immediate predecessor having been Chief Justice Melville W. Fuller of the United States Supreme Court. Frederic R. Whipple, of Washington, will represent the Anti-Fee Association.

There are charges that the attack comes from people who want to run excursions to the tomb, but this is vigorously denied. The hearing will attract much attention.

DAUGHTERS FORM JUNIOR AUXILIARY

Expected to Pave the Way for Organization of "Children of the Confederacy."

Through the energies of Lee Chapter, United Daughters of the Confederacy, an organization called the Junior Auxiliary was successfully launched yesterday afternoon by a committee, consisting of Mrs. J. Montague, Mrs. Adolphus Blair and Mrs. J. St. George Bryan. The formation of this society, whose membership is made up of girls under eighteen years of age, is a relative in active service in the Confederate armies, will pave the way for the organization of a local chapter of the "Children of the Confederacy," which includes the boys as well as the girls.

Beginning yesterday afternoon in Lee Hall with a charter enrollment of sixty girls, the founders of the auxiliary confidently expect to build the membership up rapidly. The Junior Auxiliary has for its aim the same that is behind the United Daughters of the Confederacy, the sons of the Confederate Veterans and all other similar organizations—the preservation and perpetuation of Confederate traditions. In addition, the auxiliary will engage in educational, charitable and benevolent undertakings.

To facilitate the organization and management of the auxiliary, the membership will be divided into "circles" for each girl's school. In the city, for instance, the John Marshall High School Circle, the Elliott Circle and the Morris Circle. A particular duty will be assigned by the officers of the auxiliary to each of the circles, who are to be supervised by chairmen chosen from among their number. In the interest of the new society, Mrs. Montague and Mrs. Blair have spoken before the assemblies of the High School, Miss Elliott's, and Miss Morris' schools.

Officers Elected.
The following officers of the auxiliary were elected yesterday: Mrs. Adolphus Blair, president; Mrs. J. St. George Bryan, first vice-president; Miss Emma Gray, second vice-president; Miss Ida Mason, recording secretary; Miss Bessie Jackson, treasurer; Mrs. Thomas Bigler, registrar, and Miss Marion G. Ryland, historian. Other officers will be chosen at a meeting, which will take place in the auditorium of the John Marshall High School on the first Tuesday of March at 4 o'clock in the afternoon. The use of the High School auditorium for meetings has kindly been offered to the auxiliary.

The Children of the Confederacy, a chapter of which will be organized here by the Lee Chapter, United Daughters of the Confederacy, is an organization very powerful in some Southern States, particularly Florida and Alabama. In the latter State there are thirty chapters of this organization, and it is steadily growing. The Junior Auxiliary of Lee Chapter, United Daughters of the Confederacy, is the first thing of the kind that has been attempted in Richmond, and there are only several chapters of the Children of the Confederacy in Virginia. There is no qualification necessary for membership in the auxiliary, other than that of having had a relative in the Confederate army or navy, and under eighteen years are cordially invited to become members of the organization.

ARGUE RIPARIAN RIGHTS
Belle Isle Owners Charge City With Infringement of Rights.

The city council yesterday afternoon in the Old Dominion Iron and Nail Works against the city of Richmond and the Chesapeake and Ohio Railway Company, and better known as Judge Crump in the Law and Equity Court yesterday. The case involves the water rights of Belle Isle, in Virginia, owned by the Old Dominion Iron and Nail Works, a portion of which, it is alleged, have been diverted to the city of Richmond and the Chesapeake and Ohio Railway Company. The case involves the construction of a dam at the municipal electric plant and in other construction work on the island. The case is being argued by the city of Richmond, and the Old Dominion Iron and Nail Works, and the Chesapeake and Ohio Railway Company. PERJURY CASE UP IN FEDERAL COURT

Argument by Counsel Heard Here Yesterday by Appellate Tribunal.

The case of Sidna Allen, plaintiff in error, against the United States, defendant in error, in error to the District Court at Greensboro, N. C., was argued yesterday in the United States Circuit Court of Appeals, with Circuit Judges Goff and Pritchard and District Judges Dayton and Rose in attendance. Allen was acquitted by a jury in the court below on June 10, 1910, on a charge of counterfeiting. Later he was indicted on a charge of perjury, said to have been committed while testifying as a witness in his own behalf. He was convicted in June, 1911, sentenced by Judge James E. Boyd to two years and six months imprisonment and fined $500. It is from this sentence he has appealed to the higher court.

Cause was argued by Walter S. Tipton, of Hillsville, Va., and Attorney Buxton, of Winston-Salem, N. C., for the plaintiff in error, and by Assistant District Attorney A. L. Coble, of Staunton, N. C., for the defendant in error, and submitted.

Being Washington's birthday and a legal holiday there will be no session of the court to-day. The following cases will be called to-morrow: No. 1071, Homer Adams, trustee of the estate of Creed Collins, bankrupt, petitioner, vs. Deckers Valley Lumber Company, creditor, respondent. Appeal from the District Court at Parkersburg, W. Va., in bankruptcy. To be argued by S. A. Howell and Sherman Robinson, of Harrisville, W. Va., for the petitioner, and by Lazelle and Stewart, of Morgantown, W. Va., for the respondent.

ARGUE RIVER POLLUTION

City in Earnest in Its Effort to Protect Its Water Supply.

The Council Committee on Legislation, with City Attorney Pollard, Chief Health Officer Levy, Superintendent of the Water Works Davis and other city officials, will appear before the House Committee on General Laws to-night on the bill offered at the request of the City Council, designed to protect the river from pollution by pulp mills. The bill provides that any mill discharging waste into the river shall be liable for the cost of the water supply, which is injurious to the public health.

This Quickly Cleanses Both Hair and Scalp

"A harmless and entirely satisfactory shampoo can be enjoyed at little expense," says Mrs. Mae Martyn, of the Baltimore Express. "If you get an original package of canthrox from your druggist and dissolve a teaspoonful in a cup of hot water. This is enough mixture for a thorough cleansing of both hair and scalp."

"The canthrox mixture makes a wealth of rich, white lather that dissolves every ounce of dirt, dandruff and excess oil. It rinses the hair and scalp immaculately clean, and after a canthrox shampoo the hair dries quickly and evenly, taking on such a rich gloss and softness, so that doing it up is a genuine pleasure. Occasional shampooing with canthrox keeps the scalp clean, anils plump, and induces a heavy growth of beautiful, lustrous hair."

J. THOMPSON BROWN & COMPANY

CHALONER LOSES A BARGAIN IN NEW YORK COURT

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.] New York, February 21.—The suit of John Armstrong Chaloner, of Virginia, to have the United States Court discharge the committee of his person appointed by the New York Supreme Court was practically thrown out of court by Judge Holt this afternoon. The suit, contrary to general opinion, including that apparently of Mr. Chaloner's counsel, was not a suit to establish Mr. Chaloner's sanity. It was really based on the presumption that there was some irregularity about the appointment of Thomas T. Sherman, of Evans, Choate & Sherman, as committee of Mr. Chaloner's property and person at the instance of his brothers, the Chaloners, who are hated so much by Mr. Chaloner that he changed the spelling of his name.

"Whether Chaloner is now or ever has been insane affects this issue not at all," Judge Holt has repeatedly said. "We are only endeavoring to learn whether he was deprived of his property without due process of law in the courts of proper jurisdiction, in this instance the court of the State of New York. The only court which can look into the evidence and the question of the restoring of his rights as a sane man is the court which took them away from him. Unless he was restrained forcibly from appearing in court to prove his sanity, unless he was not properly served with notice, unless some of the forms of law were not complied with, we cannot here meddle with the decree of the State of Virginia that Chaloner is sane gives no presumption for an inquiry, but in itself it is no more entitled to credit here, and no less, than the decree of the court of the State of New York that the man is insane."

Though Mr. Chaloner has a United States court order permitting him to come to New York without arrest, as a lunatic here, he has shown no disposition to leave his home in Virginia. He is intensely suspicious as a result of his temperament and experience. He is apparently as unwilling to come across the borders of this State under United States protection as without it.

He always has refused to come here to ask for hearing by the Supreme Court of New York State on his present sanity on the ground that he "refused to humiliate himself."

The lawyer for his guardian, Dr. Sherman, stated in open court to-day that it would relieve all concerned if Mr. Chaloner would surrender himself in New York, prove himself sane and so free as far as he likes. Dr. Thurman, a Charlottesville physician, testified to-day that Mr. Chaloner was kept at home by spinal trouble.

Will Take Appeal.
When seen at the Westmoreland Club last evening, Mr. Chaloner gave out the following interview: "I have nothing further to say than to give you the copy of a wire I received this evening from my New York lawyers, and my reply thereto. They are as follows: 'John Armstrong Chaloner, Richmond, Va.: 'Case decided adversely on technicalities, court holding that '93 proceedings were valid and could not be assailed in this court, which was the only issue that court would consider, ruling out all questions of jurisdiction, conspiracy, fraud, due process of law and sanity, to all of which rulings exceptions were duly taken, giving us splendid grounds for appeal. Astor contesting every step for three days. We feel that we have done everything possible in this case. We have been throughout in perfect accord and have followed your directions as implicitly as the court would permit. (Signed) 'MILLER, WARE, DUNN, DABNEY AND JEEPS.' 'Following is my reply: 'Wire saying I have lost received. Delighted appeal in necessary. The
